OUR MISSION

The Phoenix Committee on Foreign Relations is dedicated to growing Arizona's global prominence by providing forums that explore critical foreign policy issues and build enduring international connections.

ABOUT US

The Phoenix Committee on Foreign Relations (PCFR) is Arizona's premier foreign relations organization. PCFR is made up of more than 450 members with international interest in addition to dozens of corporations, government, and public organizations that support PCFR's activities.

For more than 40 years, PCFR has welcomed a variety of distinguished guests; U.S. and Foreign ambassadors, cabinet ministers, policy-makers, economists, analysts, journalists, authors, renowned educators, and heads of state. During the 20-21 season, PCFR hosted over 40 renowned speakers programs. This provides our members and community with intriguing, intellectually challenging, interactive experiences as they participate in the Q&A following the speaker's remarks.

Through these programmatic learning opportunities, we strive to raise the level of international awareness in both the public and private sectors in Arizona because of our belief that unbiased information leads to improved policy making.

BRINGING THE WORLD CLOSER TO HOME.
WHAT WE DO

- Help enrich, develop and align the international community and promote collaboration among international organizations in Arizona.
- Provide PCFR members and the community a unique opportunity to interact with leading international experts.
- Make Arizonans more fully aware of international developments and promote more effective action in adapting to a rapidly changing world.
- Promote a better understanding of global trends and their implications.
- Inform and improve policy making in both the private and public sectors.
- Foster communication on vital international economic, social and political issues.
